We are not out for conquest,
For we have heaps of room,
Where stately gums are growing,
And the golden wattles bloom ;
We're leaving dear Australia
Because the cannon's roar
Of overbearing foemen
Calls us to England's shore.

We Australian lads will very gladly share
Any dangers loved Old England has to bear,
Long before the rattle of her drums sound anywhere,
We're on the move for the country we love,
We Australians will be there.

We soldiers of Australia
Rejoice in being free,
And not to fetter others
Do we go o'er the sea.
Old England gave us freedom,
And when she makes a start
To see that others get it,
We're there to take our part.

We are not out for plunder,
We covet no man's gold ;
We fight not for a fortune,
Like buccaneers of old,
Our wheat fields and our pastures
Are ample for us all :
We're going to stand by those who have
Their backs against the wall.
