EXTENT, CLIMATE, AND PRODUCTIONS OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

THE colony of Western Australia, as defined by Her Majesty's Commission, includes all that portion of New Holland situated to the Westward of 129 degrees East longitude; its greatest length is therefore 1,280 miles from North to South, and 800 miles from East to West. The City of Perth is situated in 32 degrees South latitude, and 115 degrees 46 minutes 43 seconds East longitude. With so extensive a coast line on the Indian Ocean, and with a westerly aspect, from which the prevailing winds blow, there are abundant rains during the tillage season, and the farmer is relieved from that anxiety about his crops which is felt in other parts of Australia by drought. The heat of summer is moderated by alternate land and sea breezes. The Darling and Roe ranges of hills, rising to the height of 1,500 to 2,000 feet above the sea level, lie parallel to the western coast, at ten to twenty-five miles from it, and are dotted with numerous thriving farms amongst its hills and valleys. These ranges are twenty to fifty miles across, and on their eastern side the undulating grassy lands are situated which constitute the principal sheep and cattle runs.

The colony possesses one of the most healthy climates in the world. The mortality since its occupation has not averaged one per cent. No portion of the world is better adapted to the European constitution. The mean of the barometer is about 30 inches, and of the thermometer about 63 degrees. In general salubrity of climate, Western Australia possesses a marked superiority over any of the Australian colonies. It is subject to no extremes of heat or cold. Cattle have never been known to die from lack of water, and in the very driest weather there is a sufficient supply of food for them. Exposure to weather, by night or day, appears to produce no ill effects on the constitution of the colonists, many of whom, for months together, rarely sleep in any but the most temporary dwellings. Snow is never seen; ice only in the depth of winter, and then only in the very early morning.

Owing to the superior attractions of the gold-fields discovered in neighbouring colonies, the tide of emigration from England has hitherto swept past the shores of Western Australia, and but little is known abroad of its actual capabilities and resources.

Energy and capital alone are required to raise Western Australia to a foremost position. There is room for thousands of enterprising settlers. Millions of acres of good sheep country are lying vacant. Forests of "Jarrah" or mahogany, which effectually resists the "white ant," or "Teredo Navalis," said to be the finest timber in the world, offer a splendid field for capital, and every inducement is held out by Government. License fee merely nominal—labour cheap and plentiful. An abundance of sandalwood, in which a profitable export trade is carried on with Singapore and China. Rich lodes of copper ore, covering an area of some 5,000 square miles, visible in some places for several miles along the surface, eight feet in width, crowded together in such close proximity that it is difficult to find a square mile without indications sufficient to establish workings. Lead mines, giving 86 per cent. of pure lead. Fish abounds on the coast and in the estuaries.

Although the territorial extent of the colony is great, the population is still extremely limited. There is room for many thousands of enterprising settlers. Several gentlemen of capital from South Australia, finding the grazing country so much superior to what they had imagined, have within the last few years become denizens of Western Australia, and have taken up sheep runs in the southern districts, thus utilising lands which our own settlers have hitherto allowed to remain unproductive. Others have taken their flocks northward, to the Nickol Bay country. Between Roebuck Bay and Nickol Bay, nearly two millions of acres of first-class pastoral land have been recently discovered. The grasses here have a peculiarly succulent character, and are found to remain nutritious even after a drought of eighteen months.

TIMBER AND WOODS.—The principal timber-trees of this colony are of the Eucalyptus or Myrtle family. Amongst the most generally useful of these is that commonly called mahogany, and by the natives jarrah. Of this wood it was stated some years ago by the late Admiral Sir Jas. Stirling, before a committee of the House of Commons, that there is sufficient to build twenty British navies. None of the neighbouring colonies possess timber of a similar character to the jarrah, or endowed with equally valuable properties. If cut at the proper season, when the sap is down (a precaution too little attended to), it will be found to be the most enduring of all woods. On this condition it defies decay; time, weather, water, the white ant, and the sea worm have no effect upon it. Specimens were forwarded to the Melbourne Exhibition of portions of wood which had been nearly thirty years partly under water and partly out. Others had been used as posts, and for the same period buried in the sand, where the white ant in a few weeks destroys every other kind of wood. For this peculiar property the jarrah is now much sought after for railway sleepers and telegraph posts in India and the colonies. During the past year large quantities of jarrah sleepers have been sent to Bombay, and considerable shipments of the timber in the form of planks and telegraph posts to Melbourne and Adelaide. The wood is admirably adapted for dock-gates, piles, and other purposes, and for keel-pieces, kelsons, and other heavy timber in shipbuilding. Vessels of considerable burthen are built entirely of this wood, the peculiar properties of which render copper sheathing unnecessary, although the sea-worm is most abundant in these waters. Another most valuable kind of timber is a variety of white gum, called Tooart—close-grained, not to be split, very hard, and capable of enduring a great amount of heat without rending. It is used for keels, capstans, windlasses, naves of wheels, &c., also in the engine rooms of steam-vessels, liable to exposure or great heat. Both tooart and jarrah were used to a small extent in the construction of one of H.M. ships, the Hannibal, and the former wood especially met with high encomiums from the Admiralty surveyors. The bluegum, which grows in immense forests, and attains a vast height and size, to the southward of Cape Leeuwin, is allied to the tooart, and quite distinct from the Tasmanian one. A splendid field for capital will be found in these magnificent timber forests, and every inducement is offered by the local Government for its introduction. The license-fees are merely nominal; labour is cheap and abundant (although of a rough kind), and the chief difficulty at present experienced is the high price of freight. The Sandalwood of Western Australia has long proved a most valuable export, in large quantities, to Singapore and China. The Raspberry-jam, a species of acacia, has an agreeable sent, and is well adapted for cabinet purposes. The Casuarina, or Sheaoak, is remarkable for its numerous large bars of radial fibre, which render it difficult to be split in the direction of its circumference, and it shrinks the least of any wood in the direction of its radius. The sheaoak is used not only for shingles, but for axe-handles, spokes, and felloes, &c.; the Morell for shafts, &c. Both the white and blue gums are so hard as to be used for tramways. The "Eucalyptus Marginata," commonly called mahogany from its similitary to the wood from Honduras and the West Indies, is applicable for every purpose for which ornamental wood can be required, some of it being of the very finest grain and showing much figure, mottled curls, feathers, and excrescences—a feature peculiar to colonial wood, and highly effective in point of ornament. While it is highly adapted for ornamental purposes, it is no less valuable as a timber for heavy work, where strength, durability, and the property of resisting the attacks of the "white ant" and "Teredo navalis" are necessary. Thus for timbers of all kinds for houses, warehouses, wharves, jetties, bridges, &c., it is invaluable. For piles it should be used whole (not cut into quarters), either round or hewn; the former is preferable, there being very little sap, and the outside portion of the heartwood is stronger by far than the inner portions, near the centre; hence the desirability of keeping the annular rings complete. The timber is moreover subject to the peculiarity of being defective at heart, and although the sound timber does resist the teredo and white ant, the heart and defective portions do not. Hence the importance of keeping the outer annular rings intact, for neither of these insects will touch the sound wood.

MINERALS.—There is an inexhaustible quantity of iron ore in this province. A bar reduced from magnetic iron ore taken from Darling range of ironstone hills was some time ago proved in conjunction with one of iron of commerce and one of Swedish, both the latter being reduced from flat iron to assimilate them. The result was a deflexion of about five to eight in favour of Western Australian iron. Gold has been discovered in small quantities, but copper is found in profusion, and the ore exceedingly rich in quality. For want of capital, however, but little has been done in mining operations. Private individuals engaged in various other pursuits cannot conveniently carry on works requiring a large amount of capital. Such works must be undertaken by companies especially devoted to the object. By-and-by, no doubt, capitalists will be found to direct their attention towards the Champion Bay district, and mining operations will be carried on with vigour and success. The Geraldine lead mines are also extremely valuable. Large quantities of ore have been taken, varying in richness from seventy to eighty-six per cent. of pure lead.

WINES.—The vine flourishes here in the utmost luxuriance. In every variety of soil—in sand, in marl, and limestone—it appears equally at home. There are, however, as yet few vineyards; two or three only being from ten to thirty acres in extent, but many of them are annually increasing in size. The wine produced is all consumed in the colony, and usually the same year in which it is made. There are not many casks of wine four years old. It is therefore scarcely fair to pronounce it of any character at present, but beyond doubt the promise of excellence in quality is very great. The fruitage every year is most abundant. No ill treatment from inexperienced hands prevents the vine in this climate from yielding a large crop of grapes. The wine produced, although so new, is greatly preferred to the adulterated mixtures commonly imported.

HORSES AND CATTLE.—Horses form an item of export to Singapore, Madras, and Calcutta. The voyage to these ports is easy, and usually rapid. The colony is admirably adapted for horse-breeding. Most of the country is also well adapted for cattle.

SYNOPSIS OF THE LAND REGULATIONS OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

The Land Regulations of Western Australia are extremely "liberal," more so indeed than those of any other Australian colony. All lands, except town and suburban, and those in the north and east districts, are included in Class A and B. Lands in class A are occupied for depasturing purposes under annual licenses, at a rental of 2s. per 100 acres, and no license fee. Lands in class B are leased for eight years, at an annual rent for the lease of £5, and ten shillings per thousand acres per annum for the land comprised in such lease. No lease to contain more than 10,000 acres, but any number of leases may be granted to the same person. In both classes the existing occupier has a preferable claim for the renewal of his lease or license. Leases are granted without competition to the first bonâ fide applicant. During the first year of a lease a homestead may be selected and reported for approval at the rate of two acres for every 100 acres in the run. A lessee has the exclusive right of purchasing within any such homestead during the first three years of his lease. During the first year he has a pre-emptive right of purchase, at 10s. per acre, over the whole of the run, and at all times he has a claim for compensation for improvements on any part which may be sold.

The agricultural regulations are worthy of special notice, including as they do the liberal principles of "deferred payment" and "free selection before survey." Lands are let for tillage purposes on eight years' leases, but no lease to contain more than 320 acres, but any number granted to the same person. The terms are an annual rental of 1s. per acre, with a right to purchase at 10s. per acre at any time during the lease. All waste lands are available for tillage, but no lease is granted in Class B except with the consent of the lessee of the run.

Country lands, Class A, are sold at a fixed price of 10s. per acre to the first applicant, and town and suburban lands are disposed of by auction; upset price of the former £5 to £10 per lot, and the latter £1 to £3 per acre.

Lands supposed to contain minerals are sold to the first applicant at a fixed price of £3 per acre, payable by annual instalments. Prospecting licenses are granted at the rate of 3s. per acre, and mining leases of not less than eighty nor more than 160 acres, are granted for 10 years, at 8s. per acre.

No finer opening is presented anywhere to the pioneer settler than in the North districts of the colony; the country has been proved to be first class, and the regulations offer the greatest facilities for settlement. The lands are divided into Class A for annual license, and Class C for more extended occupation. Class A comprises all land within two miles of the sea-coast, and Class C the remainder. Class A is let on depasturing license at an annual rent of 5s. per 1,000 acres for each of the first four years, and 10s. per 1,000 acres for each of the second four years. No fee on Class A license. Permission is granted for taking up land in these districts, valid for twelve months from date. On any quantity of stock, not less than 200 breeding sheep, or 100 of great stock, reaching the district, they and their natural increase will be allowed free pasturage over the unappropriated Crown lands during time of permission. During said term the person named in the permission will be entitled to select a run of 100,000 acres, which on the Governor's approval, will be assigned to the applicant free of rent for three years. Such selection may include land in both classes, A and C. At any time within three years the whole or any part of the run may be selected by the lessee for lease or license, in blocks not exceeding 20,000 acres each. Class C Lands thus selected will be let for eight years, chargeable with rent, same as Class A, and a fee of £5 at commencement of lease. In all other respects the regulations are equally liberal. No capital, it will be noticed, is required for taking up land, while labour is cheap—men's wages, per month, from 30s. to £3 with rations.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

ASTONISHING CURE OF GENERAL DEBILITY AND LIVER COMPLAINT!!!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. William Reeves, Perth, W.A., dated 17th November, 1854.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY—

SIR,—I am happy to say that your Pills have restored me to health, after suffering for nine years from the most intense general debility and langour; my liver and bowels were also much deranged for the whole of that time. I tried many medicines, but they were of no good to me until I had recourse to your Pills, by taking which, and following the printed directions for seven weeks, I was cured, after every other means failed, to the astonishment of my neighbours, acquaintances, and friends. I shall ever feel grateful to you for this astonishing restoration to health, and will recommend your Pills to all sufferers, feeling it my duty to do so.

I remain, Sir, your humble servant,

WILLIAM REEVES.

These Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints:—

Ague	Female Irregularities	Scrofula, or King's Evil
Asthma	Fevers of all kinds	Sore-throats
Bilious complaints	Fits	Stone and Gravel
Blotches on the skin	Gout	Secondary symptoms
Bowel complaints	Headache	Tic-Doloureux
Colics	Inflammation	Tumours
Constipation of the Bowels	Jaundice	Ulcers
Consumption	Liver complaints	Veneral affections
Debility	Lumbago	Worms of all kinds
Dropsy	Piles	Weakness, from whatever cause.
Dysentery	Rheumatism	&c., &c., &c.
Erysipelas	Retention of urine

 There is a considerable saving by taking the larger size boxes.

N.B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder affixed to each box.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

SURPRISING CURE OF A BAD LEG!!!

Copy of a letter from Mr. James Jenkinson, of the firm of Tomkins and Jenkinson, Grass Valley, near Northam, Western Australia.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY—

SIR,—I have been afflicted for several years with very bad running sores in my leg and other parts of my back. I availed myself of all the medical skill in the colony, but without finding any mitigation of my complaints. I was advised by Mr. Monger, of York, to try Holloway's Ointment, but my friends and myself had always regarded Holloway as a quack and his medicine an imposition. I agreed to give them a trial; and to the surprise of myself and friends, in the course of a few weeks I was perfectly cured; and for three years I have experienced no return of the disease, but remain perfectly sound and free from any symptoms of it. Common justice and gratitude alone induce me to place this acknowledgment in your hands, to make what use of it you think proper. Mr. Monger is witness to the fact.

I remain, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES JENKINSON.

The Ointment should be used conjointly with the Pills in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Chiego-foot	Gout	Skin diseases
Bad Breasts	Chapped hands	Gland swelling	Scurvy
Burns	Corns (soft)	Lumbago	Sore heads
Bunions	Cancers	Piles	Tumours
Bite of Mosquitoes and Sand-Flies	Contracted & Stiff Joints	Rheumatism	Ulcers
Coco-bay	Elephantiasis	Scalds	Wounds
Chilblains	Fistulas	Sore Nipples	Yaws & ...
		Sore Throats

 There is a considerable saving by taking the large size pots.
